(Corner of Main and Mulberry Streets),
Lexington, Kentucky.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public generally, that he has leased this old and well known Hotel, in the city of Lexington, and that he has taken charge of the same.

The House has recently undergone a thorough renovation; the rooms are newly and neatly furnished; and still further improvements will be made to render it in all respects worthy of public patronage, and an agreeable home to those who may avail themselves of its privileges.

Intending to devote his own time and attention to the business, and to surround himself with competent assistants, together with faithful, polite and attentive servants, he gives the assurance to the public that no efforts on his part shall be wanting to make the old Phoenix in all respects worthy of its reputation in its palmy days.

Professions, however, are too easily and too frequently made to be of much value unless accompanied by corresponding acts, and he, therefore, only asks that the public may test the sincerity of his pledges by giving him a call. They will always find him ready to minister to their comforts in the best manner in his power.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parents to children, unto the third and fourth generation; indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases, consequently vast numbers perish by disorders, which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must remove the blood by an alternative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptions and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Ringworms, or Tetter, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Itch, and all the various eruptions of the skin, and all the various diseases of the blood, and all the various diseases of the system, and all the various diseases DAVID MAY.

AYER'S Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Mr. RANKIN, from a select committee, made the following report in relation to the conduct of DAVID MAY, a member of this House, viz:

The select committee to whom was referred a resolution of this House authorizing an investigation into the conduct of David May, a representative from the counties of Pike and Anderson, have had the same under consideration, and ask leave to make the following report:

Your committee have taken the testimony of James M. Soward, H. G. Soward, P. Soward, and J. Soward, which they return in writing along with this report.

From the evidence before your committee, a majority of them are of the opinion that the said David May, in the fall of 1861, joined and gave aid and comfort to a Confederate military force, under command of Col. John S. Williams, whilst in the making war upon Kentucky, and in rebellion against and endeavoring to overthrow the Government of the United States. And from the proof before us, a majority of your committee are also of the opinion that the said May is still with the rebel forces, giving them aid and comfort, if not a member of said force. This presumption is strengthened from the fact of his absence from this body, and which from itself a majority of your committee deem an unreasonable neglect and abandonment of his duties as a representative.

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That David May be expelled from this House.

The resolution offered by the committee was adopted, and David May was expelled.

COMMUNICATION OF THE Q. R. GENERAL.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication, which was referred to the committee on Ways and Means, viz:

OFFICE OF THE QUARTERMASTER GENERAL FOR THE STATE OF KENTUCKY.

FRANKFORT, KY., August 29th, 1862.

Hon. J. R. Underwood: DEAR SIR: I have been notified by the owners that the house now occupied by the Military Board and the Adjutant and Quartermaster Generals will not be for rent at the expiration of our present lease, say October 15th, proximo. I learn that negotiations are on foot for its purchase by other parties for private use.

There are no vacant offices upon the public grounds that could be used for these departments, and I know of none suitable that could be had in Frankfort unless by purchase of the property we now occupy.

I would beg leave to suggest that a very advantageous arrangement might be made by purchasing the property as a residence for the Governor, turning over the present palace for the use of the War Office.

The present residence of the Governor is a very old and inconvenient building, requiring very heavy annual repairs, and having none of the modern improvements about it. The other building is new, with all the modern improvements, in good repair, and very eligibly situated.

The price of the property is eight thousand dollars ($8,000), and I would respectfully recommend its purchase by the State.

I am with high respect,

W. A. DUDLEY,

Quartermaster General.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. SPARKS offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Military committee, viz:

PETITIONS, &c.

Mr. J. W. BLUE presented a petition, which was referred.

Mr. MECHER presented to the House a notice of contest of his seat, and stated the Clerk had received depositions on the subject. [The notice charges Mr. M. with disloyalty.] He denied the charge, and he wished the matter investigated, and if he had been disloyal in thought, word or deed, he wished to be expelled: the matter was referred to the committee on Privileges and Elections, to report to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

FRANKFORT.

WILL WALLACE BARNY, Editor.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 1862.

Extra copies of THE DAILY COMMONWEALTH can be supplied (put up in wrappers ready for mailing) at the rate of $3 per hundred. All orders for papers should be left with the reporters or at this office the day before the issue of the particular number of the paper which is wanted.

Captain A. N. Davis, of Muhlenburg county, and the Third Kentucky Cavalry, who was taken prisoner in the fight at Sacramento on the 23d of December, and has been held a prisoner ever since, and the principal part of the time at Salisbury, N. C. has just been exchanged, and has returned home. He gives many interesting particulars of the fight never published, and information as to prisoners confined that ought to be known. He says that the repulse of the detachment to which he belonged was occasioned entirely by the defective manner in which they were armed. The Confederate forces, which were commanded by Col. Forest in person, were very well armed, with double-barreled shotguns, and Maynard rifles, whilst our troops only had about thirty guns among them, and the remainder were armed with pistols furnished with cartridges, which were absolutely worthless. He states that his men would ride up to within a few paces of the enemy, and take deliberate aim, and discharge their pistols, and that the Confederate soldiers would laugh in their faces at our shots. After he was taken they told him that the balls would occasionally strike them, but drop harmlessly down; and Col. Forest told them, when our first shots were made, that they need not fear them. Capt. Davis says that his men, seeing this, became discouraged, and commenced the retreat, and that he does not blame them. Maj. Murray, Capt. Bacon, and himself covered the retreat; side by side, for more than a mile, they rode together.

Bacon was shot and fell from his horse almost at the same instant Capt. Davis' horse fell over a horse down in the road. Captain Bacon arose, covered with mud, and a Confederate soldier made at him, but retreated from the presence of the Captain, but who discovered in this effort that he was entirely disabled, and at this time Col. Forest rode up and demanded his surrender. Forest said, "Surrender, Captain, you can do no good fighting now." In a few moments after this Capt. Bacon asked him for some water, and said "I am dying." A Confederate soldier gave him some, and this was the last he saw of the gallant Capt. Bacon, for the pursuit here stopped, and he was hurried on back as a prisoner of war.

Capt. Davis is as brave a man as belongs to the Federal army. An officer of high rank, in the 11th Kentucky, who was in this fight, but who had none of his men with him, and had no command, says that he saw Capt. Davis kill three men with his own hand. We don't get this information from the Captain himself, but heard the officer make the statement the evening of or day after the fight. The Captain is a modest man, and does not boast of what he did. He says that in the retreat the rebel Col. Forest frequently passed him and Bacon, being mounted on a powerful horse, and at one time the rebel Colonel demanded his (Capt. Bacon's) surrender, who replied that he "never would."

He was carried as a prisoner to Hopkinsville, thence to Nashville, where he was at the time of the defeat and death of Zollicoffer. The retreating fugitives did not stop till they reached Nashville. Numbers of them rode their horses to death; he never saw such a panic. Shortly after this he was sent to Salisbury, N. C., where he remained until he was exchanged. He informs us that the prison inclosure contains about sixteen acres. The military prisoners, or prisoners from the regular army, were allowed the privilege of the yard or general outside inclosure, but that the citizen prisoners were kept in close confinement in the inner prison. The latter they absolutely refuse to exchange, and there are many in these walls in a suffering and languishing condition. The Captain reports that the officers were allowed about six ounces of bad meat, and about ten or twelve ounces of bread per day; if they had any more they had to buy themselves. We learn from two private released from the same prison that they were frequently fed on mule meat and spoiled bread.

The following is a list of the citizen prisoners from Kentucky, procured by Captain Davis, and now confined in that inner prison, together with their residence, postoffice, when and by whom captured:

Dr. William Thompson, of Green county, (quite an old man,) taken at his own house by Hindman's rangers, December 15th, 1861; postoffice, Centre, Metcalfe county.

N. Crinolas, of Russell county, Ky.; taken at Roma, in said county, by Col. Stanton, December 11th, 1861, postoffice, Roma.

Jefferson Dickerson, captured 11th December, 1861, by Colonel Stanton, in Russell county, Ky.; postoffice, Seventy Six.

J. Dickerson, same as above.

T. Dickerson, same as above.

Wm. Dickerson, same as above.

(The last four are brothers.)

E. McFall, same as above; postoffice, Jamestown, Russell county.

Jonathan Williams, same as above.

E. Walker, same as above.

J. Stanton, taken same time; resides in Wayne county.

David Morgan, taken at Nolin, Hardin county, Ky., October 2d, 1861; postoffice, Sonora, Hardin county.

James M. Leeds, of Covington, Ky., taken at Columbia, S. C., November 6th; postoffice, Covington.

These men begged and entreated Captain Davis, and the other officers released with him, to do something for them. It was with the most sickening and distressed feelings that these brave officers left these men. They say they cannot long live in their present condition, with such fare and in such close confinement.

The following is a copy of the prison record, showing the deaths among the citizen prisoners, in a given period, together with residence, disease, &c.:

Alfred Gillock, from Kentucky, of the Home Guards; died of measles, February 24th, 1862.

James Lawns, residence not known; of typhoid fever, June 26th, 1862.

Wm. Breedle, Virginia; typhoid fever, June 26th, 1862.

Wm. Bean, Virginia; diarrhoea; July 2, 1862.

John White, North Carolina; fever, July 2, 1862.

E. Kirby, Virginia; debility, July 4, 1862.

Jacob Charle, Virginia; meninges, July 4, 1862.

Wm. Dixon, Virginia; typhoid fever, July 5, 1862.

Maryland Richmond West, in Virginia; typhoid fever, July 8, 1862.

Wm. Barnett, Christian county, Ky.; erysipelas, July 13, 1862.

H. B. Young, North Carolina; meninges, July 28, 1862.

Augustus Peters, Richmond, Mo., Del. rem., July 23, 1862.

Ephraim Daugherty, North Carolina; typhoid pneumonia, July 28, 1862.

Two others, names not known—making 15 deaths in all.

Capt. Davis had also with him an abstract from the prison record, showing the number of deaths among the military prisoners during the same time, making precisely 15 deaths among them; but, as none of them are Kentuckians, and as it may not be important to publish the list here, as it will no doubt be published in the North where the deceased soldiers resided. But we refer to it for the purpose of showing the difference in the mortality among these citizen prisoners confined in this inner prison, and miserably fed and clothed, and the military prisoners that were somewhat better treated. Although the deaths in each class, for a given period, were precisely the same (15), yet the military prisoners outnumbered the others ten to one.

We make a most earnest appeal in behalf of these men, and call the attention of our patriotic Governor and the military to this subject. Can there not be some arrangement made for the release of these men?

The Scott County Raid.

Our paper said yesterday there was a raid in Scott county. It was a party of horse thieves from Harmony, in Owen county, (and the name of Harmony is disgraced by their action,) who moved into Scott county to Mr. Duke's farm, where Gen. G. Clay Smith's family were, and after hovering around the place for a few days, made a direct attack upon the farm house. As there were no men present to resist the attack, of course they had it their own way; but fortunately the horses had been removed so they met with no substantial success.

Gen. Smith's family are now in Lexington. Is there no way to send a cavalry force to attack, capture or destroy these common thieves and plunderers? They are trying to make their way to join the Louisiana cavalry, and they must and ought to be caught.

We have a theory of our own, that all scoundrels ought to be shot, and we know no better opportunity to catch scoundrels than the present. A swift movement upon the lines of march that they must take will settle the matter, and it ought to be so settled. Send Jacob's regiment after them. Hunt Owen county out; if its citizens will not behave themselves they must be made to. We want, as we have said before, the Home Guards to act as the Home Guards of Boyle and Mercer did—attack and pursue the enemy at all points, and attack of all things these horse thieves who belong neither to the Confederate nor the Federal armies. It is the honor, duty, character, and safety of every citizen, no matter what his political opinions may be, to chase these men down, and every honorable Kentuckian will do it.

Those who remain at home are often reminded that they should be moderate in their censures of those who take the field and have the danger to face. Flippancy criticisms are in bad taste, it is said, from one who takes care to keep safely out of harm's way. We admit the justice of these reproaches often, and the propriety of caution in casting censure where it may be undeserved. Until all the facts are well known, we cannot appreciate the conduct of the men in the field. Still, we remember the motto of Sam Patch, that some things can be done as well as others, and whilst we applaud those who fight their way out of tight places, we can't excuse those who, in similar circumstances, ingloriously surrender. Perhaps we might fall under the reproach of ill conduct, if tried before the enemy, and if so, we should deserve the condemnation meted out to others. Dangers and perils the soldier must encounter, and it is his mission to behave like a man in the service of his country. The world judges him by success or failure. It is a hard rule, but still just.

A Good Appointment.—Col. Martin, member from Lyon and Livingston counties, is recommended for an appointment to the Postmaster General as a route agent. He was a pilot on the Cumberland river, on the Conestoga and Essex. We have a perfect conviction that the pilots who coolly stand at the wheel, in the midst of a shower of bullets, are braver than all the soldiers who, in the midst of music, unity, and the pomp and panoply of war, make an attack upon the enemy. We do hope the Governor will recommend the appointment of Col. Martin to the President.

Company No. 1, Attention!

Every member of Company No. 1, as apportioned by Col. Garrard, the Provost Marshal for the city of Frankfort, will attend at the Court House this evening at half past seven o'clock, for consultation.

By order of A. G. HODGES, Commandant.

FRANKFORT, August 30, 1862.

FINED FOR WATERING MILK.—In the Court of Special Sessions, New York, on Thursday, a milkman was prosecuted for adulterating milk at a pump. His counsel contended that the addition of water was not an adulteration of the milk. Mr. Hall, District Attorney, contended that it was, and that, although some men might suppose that milk was improved by an admixture with brandy, and thus made milk punch, still, if a man purchased it as milk he was entitled to the genuine, unadulterated article. The Court agreed with Mr. Hall, and fined the defendant fifty dollars.

The Fight at Big Hill.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF KY.,
RICHMOND, Aug. 26, 1862.

General Order, No. 2.]

On Saturday, the 23d inst., the Seventh Kentucky Cavalry, under Colonel Metcalfe, together with a detachment of Honk's Third Tennessee Regiment, under Lieut. Colonel Childs, attacked the enemy on Big Hill, in Rockcastle county. Col. Metcalfe led the attack with much gallantry, but had the misfortune to find that not more than one hundred of his regiment followed him; the remainder, at the first cannon shot, turned tail and fled like a pack of cowards, and are now dispersed over a half-dozen counties, some fleeing as far as Paris.

All Provost Marshals are hereby ordered to arrest and commit to jail any of this regiment, officers or men, who may be found, under any pretence, to be in their neighborhoods, and report their names and rank to the Adjutant General at these Headquarters, and to hold them subject to orders.

The conduct of the Tennessee battalion, under Lieut. Col. Childs, presents a refreshing contrast to the foregoing. They met the enemy bravely, checked his advance, rescued Col. Metcalfe, abandoned by his own regiment, and, though too few to retrieve the action, at least saved the honor of our arms. Lieut. Col. Childs will accept the thanks of the Major General, and convey to his officers and soldiers his high appreciation of their gallantry and good conduct.

By order of Major General NELSON.

J. MILLS KENDRICK,

A. A. G., and Chief of Staff.

Official—J. D. STACY, A. A. G.

M. Foucault is engaged at Paris in a series of experiments tending to effects a revolution in the art of scenic decoration. Instead of the traditional side scene representing old trees or rocks, and intended to limit the extent of the back scene, instead also of the stripes of canvas used as bad imitation of air and clouds, he employs a large canvas surface representing a panoramic view of the sky, the end of which is not perceptible in any direction, either from the side boxes or orchestra. All side scenes are done away with and the landscape thus acquires its full effect.

PHOENIX INSURANCE COMPANY,
Hartford, Conn., May 12, 1862.

"A big fire at Troy—we are in how much we don't know. May be $20,000; but whatever it is, it will be paid as fast as adjusted, and no crying. Secretary Kellogg went up there this morning. Mr. Wallace (Adjuster) will meet him there to-morrow. They will make short work of it. The fire swept off about fifty acres of buildings—a sad calamity to Troy, but one no human forecast could have prevented. It is the first emergency we ever had, and such an one gives more character to a Company than a hundred $5,000 fires."

HARTFORD, May 13, 1862.
"Our losses may reach $15,000 or $20,000, but whatever they are, they will ALL BE PAID BEFORE SATURDAY NIGHT IF THEY CAN BE ADJUSTED. It is such fires that try the backbone of Companies, and if they can stand up under the heavy load, it will give them great credit."
